Effortlessly conquering the divide between classic and modern, Park Vue's palette of warm wooden textures and cool white hues gives the interiors a character that is at once bold enough to achieve distinction and neutral enough to invite the personal flourishes of each individual occupant.

With Mornington's lively Main Street just moments away by foot, residents every whim already has its outlet close to home. However, the additional incorporation of ground floor retail space into Park Vue's design ensures satisfaction is only ever seconds away.

There's nothing quite like waking up to the sounds of the sea. Nor is there a more peaceful way to spend a morning than in the company of coffee on your private balcony. This kind of serenity is the stuff holidays are made of. But for Park Vue residents, its woven into the fabric of everyday life.
